PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

PAY IT

Greetings!! Can it really be September! We have been lucky to avoid a major hurricane, an earthquake and on Cape Cod have had some warm days. May we all have a nice Fall! This month I am Paying It Forward by clearing, purging and organizing my house, for I am moving to a new place by October 1st. It is amazing what we keep and do not use. My new word for the month is simplified.

In June, I flew to Las Vegas as your Alternate Delegate at my first National-convention. I lost my voice, but was able to attend some of the many educational classes NAIW had to offer. Keep in mind, next June 2012, National will be in Dallas, TX.

In July, I took a road trip as your Delegate to Mini-Board in Williamsport, PA. Besides exchanging ideas and meeting more Region 1 NAIW members, we had several education sessions - one on email etiquette and another on the awards and scholarships available to members-that often get overlooked and attract little submission some years. We need to see these as a benefit and incentive for being a NAIW member.

Please keep in mind that awards applications need to be to RVP Debbie Kuehne before 11-15-2011 to be eligible. The CWC Speak Off candidate application deadline is 12-10-11. Scholarship applications will be out later in the Fall and will be due back by January 2012. Earning a scholarship or award is a great way to "Pay It Forward" to yourself, your employer, and the industry, and to show the benefit of being a member. The weekend ended with our own Cara Curtis, who presented on behalf of the Young Professionals the Best of the Best ideas for meetings to draw in new members and retain current members. Next year's Mini Board in July 2012 is a lot closer. It will be held in Freeport, ME.

I have been emailing, have had numerous phone conference calls, and have researched online in the past few months to learn more about how MAIW can in some way get involved with Project Invest. I was approached with the idea to partner with CPCU of Boston. Project Invest gets teachers from various local high schools and colleges involved in teaching their students about different aspects of insurance. They need to have an insurance professional come in to discuss insurance and answer questions during one of their classes. Project Invest has numerous opportunities and internships, scholarships, and a vast program set up to help promote and educate young adults about a career path within the insurance industry. This is where MAIW can make a difference by sharing our knowledge, experiences, and employer support to educate the community about the IDEA of a career within the insurance industry.

I will love the opportunity to speak at each Chapter within the Association to get Project Invest started in Massachusetts. I installed officers in Middlesex and Bristol Chapters in September. My goal is to attend each and every Chapter at least once before the November Association meeting.

With the exception of the third member on the Education committee, I have a full Board and would like to thank everyone for their dedication. If you have any questions and/or concerns about your committee/position or know of someone who would be a great asset to the Board, please do not hesitate to email me at loramaiw@southeasternins.com or you can find my contact information within the directory.

See you all at your Chapter meetings. Pay It Forward and share with me your stories!!! As a pay it forward moment, MAIW has donated a $100 to sponsor a hole at to the Golf outing on September 15, 2011 for the CPCU of Boston.

IMMEDIATE PAST PRESIDENT'S REPORT

MAIW has begun a great new year and the key to continued success is, and always has been, the involvement and commitment of our members. Part of my job this year is to chair the Nominating Committee and, even though election of officers doesn't take place until February, the process begins now. The first step is to ask all members to consider serving as an officer of your association. The following is an excerpt from the MAIW Bylaws which describes what each available position entails:

4. Complete a fiscal year-end financial statement for the Corporation which report shall be ready for audit within fifteen (15) days following the close of that term of office.
5. Serve as ex officio member of the Budget and Finance Committee.

5. Upon approval of the President and/or the Board of Directors, perform the duties of the Treasurer in her absence or inability to perform those duties.
6. Have joint custody with the MAIW Treasurer of the maiw.org domain name.

Vice President

1. Serve as chairman of the Bylaws Committee.
2. Perform the duties of the President-Elect in her absence or inability to perform those duties.

President-Elect

1. Assist the President and perform such duties as may be delegated by the President and/or Board of Directors.
2. Succeed to the office of President in the event of a vacancy in that office in accordance with Article IV, Section 5.a.
3. Assume the office and the duties of the President at the close of the term as President-Elect.
4. Serve as chairman of the Budget and Finance Committee.
5. Become thoroughly acquainted with the membership and the affairs of MAIW.
6. Perform the duties of the President in her absence or inability to perform those duties.
7. Perform such other duties as pertain to the office or as requested by the President and/or the Board of Directors.
8. Perform the duties of the Secretary in her absence. These duties are taken right from the MAIW Bylaws.

If any of the these offices sound interesting to you, please consider completing the MAIW Candidate Form that can be found in this month's newsletter and on the MAIW forms web site www.maiw.org/maiwforms. If you have questions or want further information, send me an email at adriannecoe@ymail.com.

There is so much to be gained from taking on a leadership role in MAIW. You will grow on a personal and a professional level while you are helping your association to succeed. I believe in each and every one of you and I know you can do this!

I need to have all completed candidate forms returned to me by 01/10/2012, so you have a lot of time to consider what you want to do. Thank you so much for all you do to help MAIW be great.

QUARTERLY SAFETY TIPS

October is Halloween Safety Month

Prevent Blindness America, the nation's leading volunteer eye health and safety organization, sponsors this theme. According to their website, there are steps you can take to make it a safe Halloween for children and teens. Information about the dangers of cosmetic contact lenses will be included, as the use of these lenses increases at this time of the year. For more information, contact them at 1-800-331-2020 or go to: http://www.preventblindness.net/site/Survey?ACTION_REQUIRED=URI_ACTION_USER_REQUESTS&SURVEY_ID=1180

November is Drinking and Driving Awareness Month

The following information is from the MADD website:

Tie One On For Safety, originally named the "Project Red Ribbon Campaign" was created in 1986 to help heighten public attention to drinking and driving during the holiday season. This program was designed to encourage the public to become actively involved in the fight against drunk driving by tying a red ribbon to a visible place on their vehicle such as the antenna or side mirror.

Today the goals of this program are to recruit anti-drunk driving partners to tie MADD ribbons to a visible place on their vehicle; boost awareness about drunk driving during the holiday season; to offer suggestions to deter drunk driving; and to increase MADD's identity with the red ribbon and its symbolism which is to prevent drunk driving.

You can promote the Tie One On For Safety campaign by providing red ribbons to organizations in the community, recording a phone message about safe and sober driving during the holiday season, displaying drunk driving statistics in your work place, distributing ribbons to people as they leave a meeting to drive home, and being a responsible party host.

Ribbons are available to individuals and groups and may be obtained by contacting your local MADD affiliate. Come on, Tie One On - For Safety!

December is Safe Toys and Gifts Month

Here are some tips from the Safe Kids USA website:

TIPS TO PREVENT TOY INJURIES

Choose safe toys.

- . Before shopping for toys, consider the child's age, interest and skill level.
- . When shopping, read labels. Look for well-made toys and follow the age and safety information on the warning labels.
- . Consider purchasing a small parts tester to determine whether or not small toys and objects in your home may present a choking hazard to young children.

Inspect all toys regularly for potential hazards.

- . Check regularly for damage that could create small pieces that are choking hazards.
- . Make any necessary repairs immediately or discard damaged toys out of children's reach.

Watch for toys that can become hazards.

- . Young children should never play with toys with strings or cords, which can accidentally strangle them.
- . Electrical toys are a potential burn hazard. Children under age 8 should not use toys with electrical plugs or batteries.

Supervise children when they play and set good examples of safe play.

- . Actively supervise children when they are playing with riding toys and any toy that has small balls and small parts, magnets, electrical or battery power, cords, wheels or any other potential hazard.
- . Active supervision means keeping the child in sight and in reach while paying undivided attention.

Ensure that toys are used in a safe environment.

- . Riding toys should not be used near stairs, traffic or swimming pools. Riding toy-related deaths can occur when a child falls from a toy or rides a toy into a body of water.
- . Always supervise children at play. Play is even more valuable when adults become involved and interact with children rather than supervising from a distance.

Make sure toys are stored safely.

- . Teach children to put toys away after playing. Ensure that toys intended for younger children are stored separately from those for older children.
- . Make sure toy chests have no lids or have safety hinges.

Sign up to receive product recalls with the Consumer Product Safety Commission at www.cpsc.gov.

- . Return warranty and product registration forms for new toy purchases to the manufacturers to make sure that you are notified of any recalls.

Home Fires Prompt Dehumidifier Recall Reannouncement from LG Electronics

More Than One Million Dollars in Property Damage Linked to Goldstar and Comfort-Aire Dehumidifiers

WASHINGTON, D.C. - LG Electronics Tianjin Appliance Co., in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), is urging consumers to check if they have recalled Goldstar or Comfort-Aire dehumidifiers.

The firm is re-announcing the recall of about 98,000 of the dangerous dehumidifiers that pose a serious fire and burn hazard, and are believed to be responsible for more than one million dollars in property damage.

The power connector for the dehumidifier's compressor can short circuit, posing fire and burn hazards to consumers and their property.

The dehumidifiers were first recalled in December 2009 following eleven incidents, including four significant fires. Since that time, the company has received sixteen additional incident reports of arcing, smoke and fire associated with the dehumidifiers, including nine significant fires. No injuries have been reported. Fires are reported to have caused more than $1 million in property damage including:

$500,000 in damage to a home in Gibsonia, Pa.

$200,000 in damage to a home in New Brighton, Minn.

$183,000 in damage to a home in Hudson, Mass.

$192,000 in damage to a home in Valparaiso, Ind.

$139,000 in damage to a home in Salem, Ohio

$129,000 in damage to a home in Brielle, N.J.

$ 95,000 in damage to a home in Philadelphia, Pa.

Because of the severity of the risks, CPSC and LG Electronics are concerned with the lack of consumer response to the recall. Only two percent of the 98,000 consumers who purchased these units have received a free repair, which means that consumers and their property remain at serious risk.

Anyone who has the recalled dehumidifiers is strongly encouraged to immediately stop using them, unplug them, and contact LG Electronics for the free repair.

The recall involves the 30 pint portable dehumidifiers sold under the Goldstar and Comfort-Aire brands. The dehumidifiers are white with a red shut-off button, controls for fan speed and humidity control, and a front-loading water bucket. "Goldstar" or "Comfort-Aire" is printed on the front. Model and serial number ranges included in this recall are listed in the table below. The model and serial numbers are located on the interior of the dehumidifier, and can be seen when the water bucket is removed.

Brand | Model No. | Serial Number Range | Sold at

Goldstar | GHD30Y7 611TAxx00001 through 08400; 611TAxx08401 through 40600; 612TAxx00001 through 20400; 612TAxx21001 through 30600 | Home Depot

Goldstar | DH305Y7 612TAxx00001 through 00600; 701TAxx00001 through 16800; 702TAxx00001 through 03000 | Walmart

Comfort-Aire | BHD-301-C 611TA000001 through 001697; 612TA000001 through 004200; 701TA000001 through 000578; 710TA000001 | through 000599 Various retailers, including Ace Hardware, Do It Best and Orgill Inc.

The recalled dehumidifiers were sold at The Home Depot, Walmart, Ace Hardware, Do It Best, Orgill Inc., and other retailers nationwide from January 2007 through June 2008 for between $140 and $150. They were manufactured in China.

For additional information about the recall and for the location of an authorized service center for the repair, contact LG toll free at (877) 220-0479 between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. CT Monday through Friday, and between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. CT on Saturday, or visit the firm's website at www.30pintdehumidifierrecall.com

To see this recall on CPSC's web site, including pictures of the recalled products and fire damage, please go to: <http://www.cpsc.gov/cpsc/pub/prerel/prhtml11/11324.html>

News from the Essex Chapter:

Essex chapter opened our season on September 14th with a great meeting. John Balzer from the Bulfinch Group came with a presentation on Disability Insurance. He gave us lots of food for thought and helped some realize the importance of this type of insurance.

We were very happy to welcome our special guest Beatrice Grant – who spoke to us on the upcoming November Association meeting as well as the 2013 Region 1 Conference. A few people have signed up to be on a committee to help with the 2013 Conference. As always it was a pleasure to see Beatrice.

All of our committee chairs had very informative information to share with everyone. Great job was done by all. Keep up the good work – maybe we will earn an award or two this year.

A special raffle was held to raise money for the Ruth Roberts Scholarship Award. We had a bag full of scratch tickets each member brought in one or more scratch tickets to add to the bag. The raffle was very successful and we were happy with the outcome. We will be holding other fundraisers to benefit the Scholarship fund.

Our big accomplishment was having lots of new faces at our meeting and a few returning faces. We did an outreach to get new people to attend – our Asst. Director Andrea McInnis worked very hard on this. She will make a fantastic director next year. My thanks to her and those who brought a guest!

For the months of October and November our PR Chair, Mary Sarsfield will be holding a food drive for canned goods & non - perishable items to benefit a local food pantry.

Essex Chapter's next meeting will be held October 12th at Carrabba's Restaurant, Rte. 1, Peabody. The topic for October is Home Safety presented by Dale Pope. This and all chapter meetings are open to anyone who would like to attend. You can find more information on FB or on the MAIW website.

NEWS YOU CAN USE

Re-boot Your Sales! 5 Steps to Re-Connect

In these challenging times we may tend to think we'll just hunker down, do the same and wait until business picks up. As Bob Dylan once said "you better start swimming or you'll sink like a stone for the times they are a-changing."

In sales, as in life, the quality of your success is based on the relationships you build and maintain over time. In order to survive and thrive in the new economy you need to realize that your customers and prospects are dog-paddling too. They feel over worked, under paid and frazzled in this fast paced unforgiving business climate. They have problems and are looking for solutions.

This is your opportunity to stay connected by stepping out of your comfort zone. Literally and figuratively. First you need to re-connect, when possible in person with your customers and prospects keeping your relationships alive. Be relevant and meaningful when making contact. The days of just saying "thought I would touch base" are over. If you can't add value to the meeting or connection your wasting everyone's time.

When using technology the same principles apply. Don't over burden them with useless messages. Build trust and confidence that you are the "go to" professional. They will look to you as the person to solve their problems or support their opportunities. This separates you from the pack.

Below are five steps you can use immediately.

5 Steps to Re-connect:

1. Update your Customer knowledge!

With the internet you can glean more info then ever before

2. Is your contact still the decision maker?

Responsibilities change. Stay connected to the power-line

3. Know the person above and below your contact.

People get promoted, transferred and sometimes fired

4. How can you improve the customer's condition?

Bring knowledge, expertise, new products and solutions

5. Be pro-active and meaningful.

When you add value to their bottom-line they will remember you.

You can also connect at trade and business gatherings. When people attend these types of functions its more of an out of the office and relaxed setting. They expect to intermingle. But like everything else its about being prepared. Arrive early, meet the organizers, know your message, ask open-ended questions which will help you engage with others. Be willing to listen, learn and then respond.

Personal Lines Insurance Search for Coverage – 3 CEUs

You just can't make these things up! This course will look at some of the "real life" questions our customers hit us with when searching for insurance protection under their HO and auto policies. Although we can laugh about some of the questions our need to provide answers is very serious. This course will present many of these challenging questions and using current ISO forms we will search out the answers.

Saturday, November 12, 2011

8:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.

Additional Insureds – The Quandary! - 3 CEUs

What coverage does an additional insured REALLY receive? Is the CGL "primary and non-contributory"? Can we get products and completed operations coverage for the additional insured? Why is everyone so fixated on the 1985 endorsements? We will answer all of these questions and more in this "must attend" program.

Both seminars will be presented by Robin Federici of Insurance Education & Training Associates (IETA). Refreshments will be provided during breaks.

Participants:

In order to earn your MA CE credit, you will have to provide your MA Producer License Number and show a picture ID at sign-in. Please note, individuals arriving more than 15 minutes after the start of the program cannot receive CE credit. Individuals leaving early cannot receive CE credit.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE COUNCIL ANNUAL MEETING

We are trying something new this year. The November Association committee is allowing us to piggy-back the council meeting onto their meeting.

Reason: Everyone will be there anyway. The Educational Seminar will be taken care of. The states General Business meeting will be taken care of as well as lunch and guest speaker.

At approximately 2 P.M. we will adjourn to another room for the Council meeting.

At that meeting the business of the council will take place. As the Regional Vice President cannot be in two places at the same time she will send us her report and it will be read by a previous RVP. Election of next year's Council Director will take place.

As there is no funding for the State Council, I am asking all attendees to contribute $10. This money will be put into the Council account for next year or for any expenses that may be incurred during the business year.

I look forward to seeing all of you there and also your opinions on this effort to save having to go out on another Saturday.

In Fellowship,

Connie O'Connell
MA State Council Director
